WED VAN NESS FOR MONEY?

HEIRS SAY HIS YOUNG WIFE IS AN ADVENTURESS.

Be's Eighty and a Former Wife Left Him a Million-After Her Death, Plaintiffs Allege, He Developed an Absurd Fondness for nen, and Learning of This His Present wife Laid Siege to Him-Stories About Her.

Cornellus H. Van Ness of Cornwall, N. Y., who rears old, is alleged to be in the control of iventuress whom he married on Feb. 21. yood was her name when he married Her home was in Port Jervis and she is 28 Court before Justice Andrews to permanent a temporary injunction reing Van Ness from disposing of what res deceased second wife, Emma L. Van e temporary injunction was served fleers of the Nassau Bank safe deposit s while Van Ness was there with his wife. one for the permanent injunction was by Charles Blandy and was stoutly opposed in behalf of Van Ness by Henry Bacon of Coshen.

The proceedings are brought by Frank D. Harmon of this city, as guardian of his two children necess of the deceased wife of the decident Emma L. Van Ness died on June 25, iss. Her maiden name was Burr and it is stated by plaintiffs that she inherited her fortune from her father. Her will was admitted to probate in Orange county. It gave her husband the income of the estate for life, but provided that he could draw from but provided that he income was insufficient for his maintenance. On his death the estate was to be divided into three parts. One part was to go to her sister, Mary non, mother of the plaintiffs, for life ath ramainder over to her issue. The mother of the plaintiffs has died Another part was to the testator's niece, Emma L. Van Ness an infant, residing in Connecticut, the plaintiffs. The other part was to go directly to the plaintiffs for life with remainder to their The complaint alleges that this disposiion of the third part is illegal, without stating why, and that on the death of Van Ness 197, and made the husband sole executor. Plaintiffs allege that the income of the estate d was more than sufficient to, maintain Van Ness in the mode of life to which he was accustomed while she lived. It is claimed that the will means that he was not to touch the incinal unless the income was insufficient to maintain him, and yet Van Ness, it is alleged, has been converting large sums of the principal to his own use, aided in this by his present rife, who has obtained large sums of money in furtherance of a scheme to marry him to sevisions of the will the plaintiffs aver that Van Ness, during the execution of the will, promised not to touch the principal but to preserve it for the legatees of the will. The plaintiffs say that the will was, anyway, the result of undue influence exerted by Van Ness.

the plaintiffs will receive the third part ab-

The will was executed on Nov. 24,

Regardless of his promise it is alleged that Van Ness has so dissipated the estate that upward of $200,000 cannot be accounted for. e plaintiffs say that he has disposed of $100,000 worth of securities and has concealed others. It is further averred that he intends to use up all the principal on advice that he is entitled to it. Mr. Blandy in support of the notion said that Van Ness is infirm and easily influenced by women. He accused Alice Wood scheming to make Van Ness's acquaintance in an apparently accidental manner, adding that soon after his wife's death the old man became enraptured with every woman he met. He would jump from his carriage on the street when he saw a pretty face and go and tell its owner he was in love with her. His conduct was the talk of Cornwall and the reports had extended to other sections so that Miss Wood bend of him and came down from Port Jervis an adventuress to see if she could pick up an san adventuress to see if she could nick up an aquaintance with the old man and secure his property. How well she had succeeded, he sid, was told in the affidavits he presented to fiscourt.

Mr. Blandy denied that the marriage was legal. The pair were married in this city by the Rev Dr. Charles H. Eaton, pastor of the Church of the Divine Paternity, on Feb. 21 last. At that time, said Mr. Blandy, Van Ness was under the prohibition of the decree of divorce which his first wife, Deborah Van Ness, obtained against him thirty-two years ago. He marriage was legal, said the lawyer, because it took place in Connecticut. Mr. Blandy further contended that Alice Wood could not marry Van Ness last February because she was then the wife of 0100 Pobe, described as a student in Brooklyn. Mr. Blandy said that his knowledge of Miss Wood's scheming was contained in the following allowing allowing and stated that she had sprained her ankle in front of the house, that she had come to Cornwall. And was hoarding at Mrs. Seaman's in the village of Cornwall. Mr. Van Ness inquired as to the extent of her injury and subsequently sent for a hack in which the said Alice Wood was conveyed to her boarding house in the village of Cornwall. Mr. Van Ness inquired as to the extent of her injury and subsequently sent for a hack in which the said Alice Wood was conveyed to her boarding house in the village of Cornwall. Mr. Van Ness inquired as to the extent of her injury and subsequently sent for a hack in which the said Alice Wood was conveyed to her boarding house in the village of Cornwall. Mr. Van Ness inquired as to the extent of her injury and subsequently sent for a hack in which the said Alice Wood was conveyed to her boarding house in the village of Cornwall. Mr. Van Ness inquired as to the extent of her injury and subsequently sent for a hack in which the said Alice Wood was conveyed to her boarding house in the village of Cornwall. Mr. Van Ness inquired as to the extent of her injury and subsequently sent for a hack in which the said Alice Wood was conveyed to her boarding house in the village of Cornwall. Mr. Van Ness in the village of Cornwall. Mr. Van Ness in t inveyed to her boarding house in the vilon the next day the said Alice Wood drove On the next day the said Alice Wood drove to the house and shortly thereafter Mr. Van Ness, who had been to the village with my husband, drove up and asked the said Alice Wood if she would like to see the place, and proceeded to show her the place, and subsequently asked her to come into the house and have some mosts. She accepted his invitation and shortly thereafter remarked to Mr. Van Ness that she could her the remarked to Mr. Van Ness that she ortly before Christmas last, Mr. Van Ness ornwall for New York and remained there of three days. When he returned to Cornand on Jan. 16, he went to Port Jervis and inday, Jan. 21. During her stay at the ss house the said Alice Wood was con-bugging and kissing Mr. Van Ness. At of the after their marriage Alice in work from her own room, and said that the old man was 27 person. I went into Mr. Van de found him in bed. He said: the matter? I made some retthat I was always around. I suggest that he was at all dan-wood was listening, but I told would not bother her. Shortly a same night, Alice Wood again on mand said that she was afraid and requested mo to sleep with was airaid he might shoot her. he old man's room and found bed. He made no remark, olver and a knife which he foom, and thereafter slept Wood until morning. Youd at that time stated to and they said I was a married woman. There are some old devits here on to us and they tell me there are detectives on the case. Destroy all letters and take my pictures out of your mother of Alice had taken up their residence with Van Ness.

Frederick East, who also works for Van Ness, corroborated his wife's statements and said further that Van Ness informed him that he had bought two houses at Port Jervis for Alice which cost $18,000 and had given her father $2.500. He had also given Alice jeweiry of his former wife worth upward of $20,000. He continues:

former whe worth upward of $20,000. He continues:

"I am firmly convinced that Alice Wood is an adventuress, a woman of bad moral character and low instinct her conduct and language are coarse, vulgar and immodest. She uses portane language and is not a desirable companion for him. She is not ministering to any of his wants, nor does she show the least affection toward him."

The intercepted letter of Otto Pobe of March I reads
"My Darling Alice: Received both your letters and was awfully glid to get them and the tenespot was fust right. You certainly are a jewel, always thinking of your little boy. Many thank, dearest little wife, for the same. If you knew how glad I was that be is going to turn over all those stocks to you with both houses! If he does that we will be fixed for sure and no need to worry. You are certainly making big progress. You know I was a little afraid he wouldn't do that, expressly after you turned him down when he tried to get fresh. It really makes me laugh to think of that old guy. It certainly strikes me funny.
"Well, darling wife, will close and write again."

KOONS, THE PERSECUTED JUROR. Trial to Be Asked for Lutz Because of Mr. Koons's Experiences.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., May 18.-The coercion and persecution of F. A. B. Koons in the "Blue Ribbon Jury" on the Lutz murder case, which of murder in the first degree, which was against his convictions, has resulted in an effort to get a new trial for the condemned man. The jury Koons, who believed that Lutz was insane when he killed his wife, held out for a second degree verdict. Ten of the others were for first degree and the twelfth was for first degree if Koons would go over. The whole weight and at the time the testatrix died was $40,000 a year | responsibility of making it a first degree ver-verdict, it not having been the voluntary verdict of all the jurors.

There is great indignation over the fact that the ten jurors published a statement saving that Koons's obstinaev not only occasioned expense to the county, but great loss to the ten jurors and that his stand prohibited any chance of a discussion of the question of Lutz's sanity or insanity. There is greater indignation over the assertion made by one of the jurymen that the ten had signed a paper saving they would not believe Koons under eath, and that they had given it to a prominent man whose name they do not care to have known Koons's friends say that this was a shameful act and that the offended man has a good case against them. Koons is in a very nervous condition to-day

BRIGHAM WILL CASE SETTLED.

vers to advance to him small sums of money on the strength of a bandaged arm and a promise Van | to engage each particular lawyer to sue the to engage each particular lawyer to sue the railroad responsible for his supposed injuries turned up in the Centre Street police court yesterday. He said this time that he was John Millier, homeless. Lawyer Frederick Hill of 82 William street, whom he had made the mistake of trying to swindle the second time, handed him over to the police. Magistrate Flammer committed him to the Tombs charged with vagrancy until this morning, when he will be brought up for examination.

me Mrs. Van Ness She said to Mr. Van Ness that he was a dear old man and frequently three her arms about his neck and cried.

"Un the following day Mr. Van Ness took the phaeton and informed deponent that he had an engagem int, and subsequently 'old me that he had taken the said Alice Wood out driving. On Wednesday, Nov. s. Mr. Van Ness instructed the hackman to call at Mrs. Seaman's and take Alice strings to the station, and Mr. Van Ness thereafter toid deponent that he had driven Alice Wood himself to the station and that she had kissed him good-by. A few days after he received a letter which he said was from Alice Wood.

Theatrical Notes.

Sir Henry Irving and Ellen Terry said goodby to this country last night at the Harlem Opera House. They will sail for England to-day on the Menominee. Last night's performance was of "The Merchant of Venice," and after the court scene the great players were called time and time again before the curtain. A speech was demanded, and Mr. Irving thanked the audience for himself and Miss Torry. He said that he would not rea deter the court scene the great players were called time again before the curtain. A speech was demanded, and Mr. Irving thanked the audience for hinself and Miss Terry. He said that he would not return to this country next season, but hoped to the following year. At the end of the performance enthusiasm again ran riot. They will appear at the london Lyceum late in June and axis in the said Alice Wood was contained the said Alice wood was the said that the head in the said and the said the said alice wood and her mother who is contained the said and the said alice wood and in my presence at edity asked Mr. Van Ness. At I had become pretty well acquainted said alice wood and in my presence at edity asked Mr. Van Ness. At I had become pretty well acquainted the said alice wood was introduced to the following year. At the end of the performance enthusiasm again ran riot. They will appear at the London Lyceum late in June and again next winter. At that time they will appear at the London Lyceum late in June and again next winter. At that time they will appear at the London Lyceum late in June and again next winter. At that time they will appear at the London Lyceum late in June and again ran riot. They will appear at the London Lyceum late in June and again ran riot. They will appear at the London Lyceum late in June and again ran riot. They will appear at the London Lyceum late in June and again ran riot. They will appear at the London Lyceum late in June and again ran riot. They will appear at the London Lyceum late in June and again ran riot. They will appear at the London Lyceum late in June and again ran riot. They will appear at the London Lyceum late in June and again ran Fencing Master Sent Up for Theft.

William Barber, a fencing master, was sent to the penitentiary for nine months yesterday by Recorder Goff for the theft of an ivory tankard from the studio of Walter Satterlee at 148 East Eighteenth street on March 22. Barber, besides giving Jeneing lessons, also poses as an artist's model. It was in this capacity that he went to Mr. Satterlee's studio, and after his departure the tankard was missing.

Senator Depew to Speak at Girard College. PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—Senator Chauncey M. Depew will deliver the oration to-morrow afternoon at the exercises in Girard Coilege in honor of the one hundred and fiftieth anniver-sary of the birth of Stephen Girard. Gen. Nel-son A. Mies and the members of his staff will be present and will review the college cadets.

Automobile Company Incorporated.

The Federal Automobile Company has been to mail. She turned them over to Van Ness.

The first, she says, read in part:

DEAR OTTO I think Fred (meaning Van Ness) was at a club and there were some men there from Middletown organizing a new club.

Incorporated at Trenton with a capital stock of stocking the stock of the capital stock of stocking the stock of the capital stock of stocking the stock of stocking the capital stock of stoc incorporated at Trenton with a capital stock of

SHE GETS HER ALFRED BACK

THEN YOUNG MRS. TERWILLIGER AND HER GRANDMOTHER MAKE UP. Their Troubles End in a Tearfully Cheerful

Time in the Harlem Police Court When the Magistrate Declines to Hold Terwilliger. In spite of the troubles between young Mrs. Alfred C. Terwilliger and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Miller of 160 East Eightythird street, with whom she lived until she eloped with Terwilliger a week ago, something very much like a reconciliation took place after the charge of abduction on which Terwilliger was arrested on Thursday night at Mrs. Miller's instance had been disposed of in the Harlem Police Court yesterday. When the eloping bride and the stern parent-or in this case, grandparent-fall into each other's arms and weep, it is about time for the curtain to fall with the assurance that everybody will live happy ever afterward. And that is the present prospect in the Terwilliger case, though the bridegroom has not yet been formally recleved into the good graces of his wife's family. The arrest of Terwilliger at the door of his home, 1422 Fifth avenue, as he was going out for a walk with his wife was not unexpected by either of them. Mrs. Terwilliger, who was Miss Jackson, admits that she is not yet quite 18 years old and she realized that her husband might be called to answer to a charge of abduction. If she was at all perturbed over it, however, she did not show her feelings when she went to court yesterday morning. Mrs. Miller appeared to make the complaint against Terwilliger, who seemed as unconcerned as his wife, though he had passed the night in jail. Mrs. Miller told how Miss Jackson had received a letter, purporting to be from a girl friend, asking her to go to a seminary commencement with her in the evening; how Miss Jackson went out, left the servant who was sent out with her, joined Terwilliger and subsequently sent back a note saying that she had been married to the a note saying that she had been married to the young man.

"He isn't the kind of a man for her to marry,' said Mrs. Miller. "He's not a nice man at all and anyway she is too young to marry. He used to drive a livery turnout and drove for me some times and that is how he got acquainted with Annie, I suppose. Everybody says that he is not of good character. I never dreamed that she could be in love with him."

Mrs. Miller could not bring any evidence to show that Terwilliger is of bad character and he had witnesses who swore to his good character. He said he was not a cab driver, but was in business for himself and able to support a wife.

gree and the twelfth was for first degree if Koons would go over. The whole weight and responsibility of making it a first degree verdiet rested upon Koons and he was placed in the position of being the man who could condemn Lutz to the gallows or by remaining firm in his convictions save his life.

For sixteen days Koons held out, and the arguments for a new trial will be based on the fact that he was persecuted, reviied and ostracted by the ten men who were for first degree, until he was finally forced to render a verdict as they pleased. In the argument will be used the fact that he tried to tell the Court that when he sixned the verdict he did not believe the man was responsible, and this he man aged to state before the Court interrupted him. The papers in the application were filled to day. The first three reasons are regarding the admission of testimony about insanity, and the fourth reads: In receiving and recording the result of all the jurors.

There is great indignation over the fact that the ten jurors published a statement saving that Koona's obstinace not only occasioned expense to the county, but great loss to the ten jurors published a statement saving that Koona's obstinace not only occasioned expense to the county, but great loss to the ten jurors published a statement saving that Koona's obstinace not only occasioned expense to the county, but great loss to the ten jurors and that his stand prohibited any chance of a discussion of the question of Lutz's savity or insanity. There is screater indignation over the fact that he made in the purchase of the fact that he had signed a paper saving they would not believe Koons under oath, and that they had siven it to a prominent man whose name they do not care to have known Koons's friends say that this was a siamerul act and that the offended man has a good case against the contended man has a good case against the stand and Magistrate sall about the against the grown that they had been don't far for the money. She was called to the stand and Magistr sat. "Grandma has lots of money, but I can be happy without it. I'd rather have Alfred than Lees was in fear that she would be spirited away by friends of Goldberg. Mrs. Moss made a statement to the police that she had seen Goldberg fire the fatal shot. She was arraigned before Magistrate Brenner in the Gates avenue police court yesterday. Magistrate Brenner said he did not think there was any danger of her disappearing, and he did not want to send her to jail. He told her that he would not lock her up if she promised to appear in court on Monday morning next. She gave the promise and was paroled until that time. Her husband, Harris Moss, is still detained in jail as a witness against Goldberg.

To Protest Against Driving Cattle in the Street. A large number of business men and storekeepers in Williamsburg have signed a petition, which they will present to the Board of Health in Brooklyn to-day, protesting against the driving of cattle through the streets in the day-time to the slaughter houses on Grand, Mesorole and Waterbury streets, in Williamsburg. They will also be accompanied by a delegation of members from the Greenpoint Board of Trade and the Grand Street Board of Trade.

This Spring both Nature and art-in-cloth are seen "wearing of Sack suits with quite a dash of it, and suits just flecked here and there. A gray mixture faintly penciled with green is one of the best examples. $28.

Others at $25 and $30. A cooling thought is that many of these suits are half lined.

ROGERS, PEET & COMPANY.

DIRECTORS ALL POLITICIANS. Railroad Company on Long Island That Ought to Have a Pull.

Articles of incorporation of a railroad com-pany have been filed in the office of the Secretary of State at Albany and the list of directors shows every one of them to be holding a berth in the public service or prominent in the political life of Long Island. The list and the number of shares subscribed by each are as follows: Edward T. McKeever of Brooklyn, contractor, 145 shares; Daniel Noble of Long Island City, Surrogate of Queens county, 90 shares; Daniel Callahan of Long Island City, formerly a member of the Queens Borough School Board and now Supervising Inspector of Buildings and Treasurer of the Democratic Club of Queens, 90 shares; Matthew J. Smith of Long Island City, City Magistrate, 90 shares; Matthew J. Goldner, former Sheriff of Queens county and formerly Clerk of Long Island City, and now Deputy Commissioner of Sewers for the Borough of Queens, 90 shares; William L. Woodill of Long Island City, prominent in the affairs of the Democratic party in Queens and a contractor, 90 shares; Patrick J. Mara of Flushing, leader of the Democratio forces in the Third ward of the borough of Queens and the only director who has never Queens and the only director who has never aspired to public office, 90 shares; Joseph Bermel, Middle Village, Democratic leader in the Second ward of the borough of Queens, formerly Supervisor of Queens county, 90 shares; Frederick W. Bowley of Astoria, President of the borough of Queens and formerly Alderman in Long Island City, 90 shares; Joseph Meyerrose of Newtown, once Democratic candidate for Sheriff of Queens county and a candidate for the nomination this year, 90 shares; Henry P. Keith of Hempstead, formerly Assistant District Attorney of Nassau county and now an Assistant District Attorney in this county, 90 shares; Charles Wissel of Evergreens, member of Assembly from the Second district of Queens county and candidate for State Senator, 90 shares; Edward J. McKeever, contractor of Brooklyn, 90 shares; John B. Merrill, District Attorney of Queens county, 90 shares; Philip T. Cronin of Far Rockaway, Coroner in the borough of Queens and candidate for the Democratic nomination for Sheriff in Queens and leader of the Democracy in the Fifth ward of the borough of Queens, 90 shares; Edward Todd of Long Island City, President of the Democratic Club of the borough of Queens, 90 shares; Edward Todd of Long Island City, President of the Democratic Club of the borough of Queens, 90 shares; and Ruloff V. Brower of Woodmere, inheritance tax clerk in the office of Surrogate Daniel Noble, and Democratic leader in Hempstead, 90 shares.

The capital stock of the new company, which is to be known as the Queens Borough and Nassau County Rallway Company, is $150,000, divided into 1,500 shares. All the stock is common stock.

The company is organized to build a street religious to the congented by electricity and to be aspired to public office, 90 shares; Joseph Berlage of Hempstead to what was formerly the village of Queens. The announcement of the intention to organize the company was made some months ago and a bill was introduced in the Legislature authorizing the building and operation of surface roads on themacadamized nighways in the town of Hempstead. This measure was vetoed by Gov. Roosevelt on the ground that the question should be submitted to a vote of the people. A petition was then prepared calling for a special election to vote on the matter, but it was not held as it was discovered that such a matter could be voted upon only at a general election. After the bill was vetoed it was reported that the corporation would purchase land and build their tracks on their own right of way.

THE CUBAN MARRIAGE LAW

Bishop Sharetti Has Made a Protest Against

From letters received in the United States by officers of the Federal Government and by from correspondents in Havana, it is learned that there is great discontent in Cuba over the present laws concerning mairiage. On May 31, 1899, Gen. Brooke, then Military Governor of Cuba, directed the publication of an order that only civil marriages should be legally valid on the island. It was said that Gen. Brooke issued the order at the instance of Senor Lanuza,

"I do not believe that Gen. Brooke is personally responsible for that iniquitous marriage law in Cuba. I believe that the General tried to be perfectly honest and square in his difficult task of administering the law at a time when everything was in a state of flux. Still, when the matter is locked at in the light of healthy American sentiment, it is simply astounding that under the protection of the American flag such a savage attack should be made on the free exercise of religion.' Señor Lanuza is, of course, the perpetrator of the I made on 'the free exercise of religion.' Señor Lanuza is, of course, the perpetrator of the attack. The enacting of this law was unfortunate because before the Cuban people the American authorities appear as persecutors of the Church. I am quite sure Gen. Wood, whose high instincts of honor have already made him a successful ruler in Cuba, sees the fatal mistake that has been made and is only too anxious to repeal the odious law."

"Unionist" Editors Arrested for Libel.

Cornelius S. Desmond and William F. Sherock, members of Typographical Union No. 6, were arrested last night on a charge of criminal libel. John H. Delaney, former President of the union, is the complainant. They are the editors of the Unionist, a semi-weekly published in the interests of "Big Six." At the union's election last Wednesday Delaney was defeated, and he ascribes his defeat to an article printed in the Unionist, allexing that funds amounting to $4.000 have not been accounted for under his to $4,000 have not been accounted for under his administration. Desmond and Sherlock gave bail in $1,000 each.

The total amount on deposit with Brown Brothers & Co. for the Indian Famine Relief Fund is now $21,658. Additional subscriptions include: John Wanamaker, $1,000; Morris K. Jesup, $500. William G. Low, $250. Capt. A. T. Mahan, $100. S. R. Bradley, $100; A. W. C., $100; Maxmolia Metal Company, $100. THE SUN has agreed to receive funds for Indian famine relief and will turn over all money received to Brown Brothers & Co.

St. John's Hospital May Become a Private

The managers of St. John's Hospital in Brooklyn, which is under control of the Episcopal Church Charity Foundation, have under consideration the removal of it from the list of city hospitals. The decision of Comptroller Coler cutting down the appropriations to such institutions has handicapped the hospital

Continued Illness of Former Justice Jesse Johnson.

The law firm of Johnson & Lamb in Brooklyn has been dissolved, owing to the severe illness of former Supreme Court Justice Jesse Johnson, who is now staying at Babylon, L. I. His former partner, Col. Albert E. Lamb, will continue the practice of law.

New Offices for Local Civil Service Board. The Sinking Fund Commissioners held a neeting in the Mayor's office yesterday and decided to lease offices on the fifth floor of the New York Life Insurance Building for the municipal Civil Service Commission. The annual rental of the offices will be $12,500 and a three years' lease will be taken.

Pennsylvania Ratiroad Officials Visit Long Island City.

A party of officials connected with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company visited Long Island City yesterday for the purpose of be-ginning a tour of inspection of the Long Island Railroad system recently purchased by the Pennsylvania road.

KO)a

BAKING POWDER

-Absolutely Pure-

No other baking powder is "just as good as Royal," either in strength, purity or wholesomeness.

> Many low-priced imitation baking powders are upon the manket. These are made with alum, and care should be taken to avoid them, as alum is a poison, never to be taken in the food.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 100 WILLIAM ST., NEW YORK.

LADY CHAPEL DESIGN SELECTED.

C. T. Mathews Will Be the Architect-Archbishop Corrigan Approves Plans.

THAT WELLAND CANAL PLOT. Clan-na-Gael Men Here Say Their Organization Had Nothing to Do With It.

The declaration made by Inspector Murray of the Canadian Secret Service that the plot to blow up the Welland Canal with dynamite was developed in this city caused a good deal of discussion among the Clan-na-Gael men yesterday. The Inspector said that the plot had originated in the Napper Tandy Camp of the Clan-na-Gaels, which meets at Third avenue and Sixteenth street, and that Walsh and Nolan, two of the men under arrest at Thorold, Ont., were members of that camp. Michael J. Jennings, who is a member of that camp, declared that the two men had never been members of the camp and he did not the island. It was said that teen moore issued the formal property in the state of Attempt to Have N. T. & W. Water Company Declared insolvent.

The decision rendered some time ago by Judge Addison Brown of the United States District Court depring the petition of Moses R. Crow and other creditors of the New York and West-chester Water Company to have that company addised an involuntary bankrupt was affirmed yesterday by the United States court of the United States District Court of the New York and West-chester Water Company to have that company addised an involuntary bankrupt was affirmed the states. As a consequence, the Suprem Court of the United States Circuit court of Appeals, Mr. Crow will take an immediate States. Suppose the United States Circuit court of Appeals, Mr. Crow will take an immediate States. As a consequence will be suprem court of the New York and Wast-chester Water Company. Mr. Crow said that If this were so and if the decision of the lower courts were suffirmed to the court of the New York and Wast-chester Water Company. Mr. Crow said that If this were so and if the decision of the lower courts were suffirmed to take add the water the lower courts were suffirmed to take and the the country of the court of the New York and Wast-chester Water Company. Mr. Crow said that If this were so and if the decision of the lower courts were suffirmed to take and the decision of the New York and Wast-chester Water Company. Mr. Crow said that If this were so and if the decision of the lower courts were suffirmed to take and the test such that the company were constructed to the court of the New York and Wast-chester Water Company were constructed to the court of the Critical States where a marriage duly performed by the Crow said that the such section of the New York and Wast-chester Water Company to the Crow said that the such section of the New York and Wast-chester Water Company to the Crow said that the such section of the Critical States where a marriage duly performed by the Crow said that the suc

FOUND DEAD AT THE HOLLAND HOUSE. Heart Disease Kills W. S. Eakin of New London After a Late Meal.

William S. Eakin of New London, Conn., was found dead in bed at the Holland House yesterday morning. His death was due to heart disease. Mr. Fakin had been up late the night before. At midnight he ate a hearty meal in the hotel dining room with some friends, but he intended to rise early to go to Orange, N. J., to play golf.

An hour after he retired he began to feel ill and asked a hallboy to call a physician. Dr. John A. Irwin of 14 West Twenty-ninth street came. He told Mr. Eakin what he already knew, that his heart was weak. When Dr. Irwin left the hotel he ordered a bellboy to go to Mr. Eakin's room frequently in the night. The boy visited the room often and found Mr. Eakin apparently sleeping peacefully. On his last visit at 725 A. J. he controlled the room of the room o night. The boy visited the room often and found Mr. Eakin apparently sleeping peacefully. On his last visit at 7.45 A. M. he found him dead.

Mr. Eakin was 28 years old. He was graduated from Yale in the class of '06. Twenty years ago his father died leaving a large fortune. Mr. Eakin spent a good deal of his time in New York and was well known about the Holland House, where he always stopped. By direction of his widow his body was taken to New London last night.

Former Tax Collector Keough Sent to Prison. SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 18.-James C. Keough, former Tax Collector of Holyoke, was sentenced in the Superior Court to-day to State prison for a term of not more than ten nor less than seven and a half years, one day to be soli-tary confinement. Tax Collector Keough em-bezzled from the city to the amount of $200,000. There were twelve counts against him, to one of which, stealing $30,000, he pleaded guilty.

Ogden Gas Company $6,000.000 Mortgage. CHICAGO, May 18 .- A mortgage from the Og-Trust Company of New York for $6,000,000 was to-day filed for record. The mortrage covers all the property of the company, together with its franchises and rights, and secures the issue of $6,000,000 of gold bonds bearing interest at A den Gas Company to the Farmers' Loan and of $6,000,000 of gold bonds, bearing interest at per cent, dated May 1 and payable, May 1, 194

Music Every Evening also during Lunch on Saturdays at

PARK ROW BUILDING

Ladies' and Gentlemen's Restaurant and Rathskeller... Also at Columbus Avenue and 75th Street during Dinner and Supper

Almost the last thing which Archbishop Corrigan did before sailing for Rome three weeks ago was to approve the decision made by some experts, with Prof. Ware of Columbia at their head, concerning half a dozen sets of plans for the new Lady chapel which is to form a part of the foundation of St. Patrick's Cathedral. A few leading architects were asked to submit plans, not wholly in competition, but in order that selection might be made from among a number, and under the promise that all plans would be paid for. The decision, approved by the Archbishop, gave the award to Mr. Charles T. Mathews. Full particulars of the accepted design have not been made public, the architect being abroad, but enough is known for a general description. The new Lady chapel will be Gothic in design and correspond very closely to the archisign and correspond very closely to the architecture of the cathedral. It will be connected with the cathedral apse, and will occupy the space fronting on Madison avenue, between the Archbishop's house and the cathedral rectory, but it will not be joined to either. Practically, it will be a small cathedral, very high for its ground space, so as not to be dwarfed by the cathedral. It will consist of one main auditorium, in effect carrying the chancel of the cathedral farther east and altering to some extent the cruciform plan. The main entrance fall.

Mrs. Eugene Kelley bequeathed the sum of $200,000 for the erection of this Lady chapel, which has long been needed to complete the great cathedral foundation. Her sons, it is said, will furnish any additional funds that may be needed. It is thought that the chapel will cost

NORMAL SCHOOL GIRLS REBUKED. They Were Told They Would Be Suspended if They Didn't Cease Flirting.

WILLIMANTIC, Conn., May 18 .- The publication in the newspapers that fifteen young women students of the Normal School here had been suspended caused the faculty to issue a statement to-day denying that any of the stu-dents had been suspended. The facts are that fifteen young women were called before the faculty and told they must stop fiftring on the train and exhibit better behavior or stop attending the school. The young women informed the other students that they had been suspended for "getting gay on the cars. They now say they told the story for a joke, not thinking it would cause such publicity and they are very repentant. repentant.
The story of the suspension was obtained yesterday from a dozen students of the school.
They all gave the same version of it.

The American Thread Company.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the American Thread Company in Jersey City yesterday the three retiring directors, Robert K. Clark, James Kerr and Herbert Lyman were reelected. The board organized by electing Lyman R. Hopkins of Lakeview, electing Lyman R. Hopkins of lakeview,
Me, as President; Alexander King, East
Orange, N. J., Vice-President; Lucius
A. Barbour, Hartford, Conn., Second VicePresident; T. M. Ives, New York, Treasurer and Secretary, and I. C. Davis, Fall River, Mass., Assistant Treasurer and Assistant Secretary. The report for the year ended, March 31, 1900, shows a balance of net profit for the year of $779,135, after paying bond interest and allowance for depreciation. Deducting the year's dividend on the preferred shares, amounting to $245,140, leaves preferred shares, amounting to $245,140, leaves a balance of $524,995. The committee of the London Stock Exchange has granted a quotation for the company's bonds and preferred shares and will include the same in its official bines from Mar. 30

There was a continuance of the unsettled weather conditions over nearly all the country yesterday, Texas and northeastern Minnesota showing the only clear spots. In other districts it was cloudy and showery, with thunderstorms. There was a fog on the coast in the early morning. The temperature was higher in the middle Atlantic

States and lower in nearly all other sections. It was within four degrees of freezing point in Wyoming and frost was reported from Colorado. In this city the day was cloudy and showery, with thunderstorms between 11 A. M. and 2 P. M. total rainfall .07 of an inch; average humidit .88 per cent.;

wind southwest in morning, shifted to south and southeast, increasing in force from 6 miles on hour at 8 A. M. to an average of 18 for the day; barometer corrected to read to sea level at 8 A. M., 29.88; 3 P.M., The temperature as recorded by the official thermometer, and also by THE SUN's thermometer at the treet level, is shown in the annexed table:

WASHINGTON PORECAST FOR TO-DAY AND TO-MORROW.

For New England, showers to-day, with cooler on the south coast; showers Sunday; brisk northeast winds. For eastern New York, showers to-day, with cooler in south portion; Sunday, showers; brisk north winds. For the District of Columbia, castern Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland and Virginia, showers and cooler to-day; showers Sunday; winds shifting to fresh For New Jersey, showers to-day, with cooler, except on the south coast: showers Sunday; brisk south shifting to north winds. For western Pennsylvania and western New York, showers to-day, Sunday, fair; fresh northerly winds.

PRESIDENT LITTLE RESIGNS. He Severs All Official Connection With the City's Public Schools. Joseph J. Little, President of the Board of Education, wrote to Mayor Van Wyck yesterday resigning as a member of the School Board of the boroughs of Manhattan and The Bronx.

Mr. Little also sent the following letter to the Board of Education:

"Gentlemen: I have this day forwarded to the Mayor my resignation as a member of the School Board for the boroughs of Manhattan and The Bronx. Inasmuch as section 7 of the by-laws prescribed a definite term for the President, it is not clear that my resignation from the School Board vacates this office. I therefore, respectfully tender to the board my resignation as President, and also as a member of the Board of Education. I leave the school system withireluctance, but my health and my personal affairs compel me to do so.

"Permit me to thank each one of my associates in the work of education for the honors and courtesies they have uniformly extended to me while a member of this board.

"With confidence in the continued prosperity of the schools, and with best wishes for each member of the board personally, I am, very sincerely, yours.

JOSEPH J. LITTLE."

HAD INDECENT PHOTOGRAPHS.

Thomas Augustine Sent to the Penitentiary for Three Months. The trial of Thomas Augustine of 318 H extent the cruciform plan. The main entrance is on the avenue. The material will be the same as that of the cathedral, and it is expected that work upon its construction will begin next.

The trial of Thomas Augustine of 318 Hooper is treet and Nelson Raynor of Freeport, L. I., in the Court of Special Sessions in Brooklyn yesterday, on a charge of having in their possession indecent photographs elicited the fact that some of the photographs, had been given to a student of Pratt Institute. The arrests were made a month ago, through the agency of Anthony Comstock. It was said that Augustine exchanged the pictures with Raynor for an opera glass, and that Raynor gave some of them to a student of the institute.

Both of the accused men pleaded guilty. Augustine, who is married and has three children, was sent to the penitentiary for three months. Raynor escaped with a fine of $50. terday, on a charge of having in their possession

BRITTON ON MLEER'S STAFF. He Succeeds Frothingham as Assistant Adja-

tant-General. Col. Edward E. Britton was appointed yesterday to succeed Col. Frothingham as Assistant Adjutant-General on the staff of Gen. James McLeer, commander of the Second Brigade. He was long a member of the Twenty-third Regi-ment of Brooklyn. He organized the 114th Regiment and commanded it during the Span-ish war. He recently won the gold medal of-fered by the Military Service Institution for the best essay on the methods to be pursued in making the National Guard an effective auxil-itary to the Beguler army in time of neace and to the Regular army in time of peace and

NOT OUT ON THE WARPATH. On the Contrary, the Montauks Are | Raising Money to Hire a Lawyer.

The town of Sag Harbor, L. I., will probably not resound with warwhoops next Thursday night, although members of the Montauk tribe of Indians will give an entertainment at that time in Masonic Hall. There will be dancing, singing and other amusements, given exclusively by members of the tribe. The purpose is to raise money to enable the Montauks to hire a lawyer to conduct a lawsuit against the Long Island Raffroud to recover possession of land at the other end of the island.

Justice Fitzgerald of the Supreme Court fixed at $15,000 yesterday the bail for James B. Kellogg: of Dean & Co., pending his appeal from conviction for embezzlement.

The very best proprietary articles in our market today are the for-SOZODONT mulas of expert professional men.

Sozodont was originated by Dr. R. Van TELETTE Buskirk, a MALL A RUCKEL chemist whose standing in the community where he lived was always the Large Liquid and Powder together, 756.

